Plot:

Filmmaker Bejoy Nambiar started to create the film after reading an Indian newspaper article on a faked kidnapping by a group of young people who pulled out a lot of money from their parents.

It is a vicious circle one ends up in once a crime is committed and never admitted - because no bad deed goes unpunished. Bejoy Nambiar's SHAITAN introduces us to young and carefree friends Amy, KC, Zubin, Dash and Tanya who never think about consequences - until their recklessness kills two people.

Too afraid to face the reality of and then punishment for their wrongdoing, they try to cover up the crime, subsequently committing more and more of the same. When finally a police officer finds out about the happenings, he doesn't arrest the group of youngsters; he rather blackmails them to pay him for his silence - thus enforcing the crime spree when the friends try to get the money...

SHAITAN was written by Bejoy Nambiar and Megha Ramaswamy, directed by Bejoy Nambiar, and stars Rajeev Khandelwal, Kalki Koechlin, Gulshan Devaiya, Neil Bhoopalam, Shiv Pandit, Kirti Kulhari, Rajkumar Yadav und Pawan Malhotra.

As first movie of the IndoGerman Film Dinner, SHAITAN will be screened on April 6th, 2013, at 7pm in the Babylon Berlin, Rosa-Luxemburg-Str. 30, 10178 Berlin, Tickets: www.babylonberlin.de
