The story: Naina (Deepika Padukone) is clever and diligent; the best of her class at medical school where she studies to become a doctor. But she is also shy, and slightly nerdy - an outcast among her fellow students. It's a reunion with former classmate Aditi that makes her realize she needs to change her life. But when she spontaneously follows Aditi on a hiking trip, she finds a lot more than she intended to look for, and falls in love with globetrotter Bunny (Ranbir Kapoor). But Bunny is about to leave to study in the US...

More about the story: Learning, books, good grades - it's what medical student Naina's (Deepika Padukone) whole focus rests upon. She tops her class when it comes to her achievements in her studies; but she is hardly the most popular person at her university. When her former classmate Aditi crosses her path, Naina realizes that a change is in order. Together with Aditi she engages in an adventurous hiking trip into the Himalayas.

Part of their travel group is charming and handsome Kabir, better known as "Bunny" (Ranbir Kapoor). He immediately piques Naina's interest; and it's not much different for Bunny. They flirt and get gradually closer, until at the end of the journey Naina feels ready to reveal her feelings.

Just then she has to learn that this was Bunny's last adventure; he's about to start studying abroad in the US. He wants to travel the world, it's all that counts for him. Heartbroken Naina says goodbye to Bunny. It takes eight years for them to meet again. The attraction is still there... but so are both their careers standing between them: Having just gotten the best job offer of his life, Bunny is soon going to move to Paris...
